GYPSY BAND FLEEING FOR OREGON LINE WITH SUPPOSEDLY STOLEN BOY

QUESTIONED BY YOLO SHERIFF; TELL A DIFFERENT STORY FROM THAT HERE, LEAVE HURRIEDLY

(Special to Record-Herald)

WOODLAND, April 25.—According to word received here from Richmond, the police of that city are trying to locate the whereabouts of a band of gypsies which visited this city recently.

The gypsies had in their possession a white boy, 4 or 5 years of age, who is thought to be the son of Charles Glass of 13 Lienau Place, Jersey City, N. J. The missing boy is James Douglass Glass, aged 4.

He was stolen from his home a year ago and is described as having light hair and blue eyes. He had an impediment in his speech.

Little James Douglass Glass tallies in every way with the description furnished Sheriff J. W. Monroe by Assistant District Attorney T. M. Carlson and Humane Officer D. W. Calfee of Richmond.

According to Sheriff J. W. Monroe, who investigated the presence of the boy here, the description fits that of the boy found here in possession of the gypsies except that he did not notice any impediment in his speech.

The gypsies showed the sheriff adoption papers, showing that they had adopted the boy in Kentucky. A gypsy woman told the sheriff she had rescued the lad from his mother, who, driven by poverty, was about to drown him in a river.

The gypsy band which camped here is believed to have left for Spokane, Wash. They traveled in automobiles.

HINDU LOSES $200 IN BUNCO DEAL AT STEGE; APPEALS TO POLICE FOR AID

(Special to Record-Herald)

SACRAMENTO, April 25.—S. Toga, self styled Hindu physician, employed on a ranch in the delta section, has appealed to the district attorney's office to aid him in getting $200 which he claims Zakair Haussain and Suba Kahan, two countrymen, took from him at Richmond by false representation.

Toga declares he met the two men at Stege, a suburb of Richmond. That they went to the home of a friend where he was induced to put his money with $300 put up by them for the purchase of a Stockton chicken ranch.

According to Toga that was the last which he saw of his money.

The two alleged Hindu bunco artists are supposedly working near Lodi.

$50,000 SUIT TO IMPROVE INNER HARBOR IS NEAR END

(Special to Record-Herald)

MARTINEZ, April 25.—The case of the Bay Counties Land Company vs. the Ellis Landing and Docking company, and the Bay Counties Land company vs. the City of Richmond has been put off again, but indications are that the litigations will be settled so far as the local courts are concerned some time next month or the first of June. The cases involve the questions of the inner harbor at Richmond and the defendants are anxious to get busy, according to their attorneys, who stated in Judge McKenzie's court today that the delay in the trial has caused the defendants to hold up $50,000 worth of dredging work and that the city of Richmond has only until June 10th to proceed with the work under the three years' agreement with the state.

A conference between the lawyers in the case will be held at an early date and then the hearing will be held.

TOUCHING EULOGY FOR "MEX" SNIPER

EL PASO, April 25.—At the burial last night of a Villista, shot as a sniper it was deemed advisable to deliver a eulogy over the remains. As they were being lowered into the grave a colored trooper stepped forward and bowing his head said:

Earth to earth,
Dust to dust,
If Carranza won't shoot you,
Uncle Sam must.

MERCHANTS DEFY CITY COUNCIL IN TAX PAYMENT

A final and vigorous demand, was made upon the city council, by Richmond merchants, at its meeting last night, to abolish instantly, the license tax paid by them.

The communication sent to the council and signed by I. L. Dearborn and E. Forwick, president and secretary, respectively of the Richmond Retail Merchants' association stated the present tax to be "unjust, illegal and detrimental to the welfare of the municipality."

"I cannot see why the Richmond merchants wish to abolish this tax," stated Councilman Gerlach. "For they are given downtown fire protection, clean streets and everything along those lines which would tend to enhance their business houses."

According to City Auditor J. C. McVittie, approximately $8,500 is paid to the city treasury by the merchants tax.

An amicable settlement of the controversy will in all probabilities be made by the city council and heads of the association at a special meeting to be held the latter part of this week.

CIVIC CLUBS MAY LOSE AS RESULT OF OPINION

Civic organizations of this city may lose all right to use the auditorium of the Lincoln grammar school or any other school building in Richmond for meeting purposes as the result of an opinion rendered by Edward Hyatt, state superintendent of public instruction at Sacramento today.

According to an opinion which was rendered by the district attorney of Santa Cruz county to C. S. Price, superintendent of schools of that county, "the act is unconstitutional for the reason that it is indirect violation of article IX of the constitution of the state, in that by the enforcement of this act the school funds will be diverted to purposes other than the purpose for which said funds have been created and the tax levied."

Other offers and the dates upon which they were made follow: August 2, Ben Boorman, first offer, lot on Twenty-eighth street 100 feet north of Cutting boulevard, $1.00; August 10 Theresa L. WHITE GUARD RAILS IN SAFETY FIRST MOVE

That the lives of auto and vehicle drivers will not be jeopardized, City Engineer H. D. Chapman informed the city council last night that he would immediately erect a white guard rail at the junction of Montecito and Vacca streets. The streets are among those recently improved on the west side hills.

TWENTY-THIRD ST. IMPROVEMENT IS COMMENCED

City officials are quite sanguine now that obstacles in the way of construction for the improvement of Twenty-third street, north, have been removed as far as Esmond avenue and that proceedings will be begun at the next meeting of the council on Monday evening.

In the matter of Twenty-third street, south, there are still three property holders who have not been yet settled with, but it is thought that this will be accomplished within a short time and that work of improving this much needed thoroughfare will be commenced within the next few weeks.

Tenth street south is another street which is to be improved before the coming of autumn, according to members of the council. Much of the property along this street has been secured for the right of way and it is hoped the street can be completed this summer. However, the work may be held up for a time on account of the storm sewer which is badly needed in that part of town.

NEW ORDINANCE CONTAINS MANY STRINGENT PARTS

Although somewhat modified the newly drafted electrical ordinance given its first reading by the city council last evening contained many stringent clauses. Certain parts of the ordinance seemed to meet with the disapproval of the council, especially that part which gave the city electrical inspector the power to condemn the wiring of any house or building which he might deem defective.

The greater part of the new ordinance is merely the old one revamped.

STEALING DAYLIGHT

On May 1st Germany, and probably Austria and Holland, will set their clocks ahead an hour. This simple expedient will yield the people an hour more of daylight for working use each day of the summer.

Without apparently changing their daily routine as ordered by the clock, the inhabitants of these countries will, in fact, arise an hour earlier each morning and retire an hour earlier each evening. They will have an hour more of daylight for recreation in the late afternoon.

The time tables will not have to be changed in the least. All the ordered things of life—the hours for meals, for evening gatherings, and so on—will be precisely as before, except that in fact an hour of light will be redeemed from slumber, and an hour more of darkness devoted to it.

The same plan has been strongly urged in this country, but the difficulty is to get it officially started. Neither cities nor states can order the change individually, because of the dislocation of relations with other cities or states. The railroads might possibly achieve it by general agreement, just as they established standard time, but they have no particular motive for undertaking it, as they operate day and night. Whether congress could order the change each May day, is a question.

The difficulty is just another example of the inconveniences to which our peculiar form of federal government sometimes subjects us.

THE JUVENILE "CRIMINAL"

It is a remarkable fact—and we commend it to the consideration of women generally—that one of the biggest problems before the criminal courts, the police, the school authorities and the civic reformers, is "How shall we handle juvenile criminals?"

If it is only a flat, a cottage, a tent, a lean-to shack, a home is more to a boy or girl than any grownup can remember or realize. More than one-tenth of the "kids" haled into the courts and sent to the reformatories have no homes worth mentioning and no mothers to defend them and plead for them.

In the whole United States is not one city that is not experiencing the monthly and yearly increase of "juvenile crime," so-called. In the vast majority of such cases the "crime" is due to parental neglect, the lack of a home, the ebulliency of youth and the wildness of undirected energy.

The home and the parents are what the boys and the girls of America need most. It takes more courage to be a modest and obscure mother than to be a Red Cross nurse, but it is worth more—worth more to the boy and the girl, worth mort to the nation, worth more to civilization.

Just a little care kindliness, a little thoughtfulness and good fellowship will do more than all the courts, than all the civic societies, than all the reform movements, than all of the Sunday schools. It is the one thing that gets unfailing results of the right sort.

A Kansas law specifically prohibits carrying intoxicants in automobiles. That law should be enforced everywhere, so far as it applies to carrying intoxicants with the driver as the receptacle.

INSULTING THE FLAG

A Yale proffessor says that it is less of an insult to the flag to spit on it than to spill American blood on it.

Maybe so, in the proffessor's eyes. Very likely he believes that it would be a deep disgrace if it became necessary for him to shed a little of his own academic bloood in defense of the flag and what it stands for. And very likely he thinks it no disgrace for the flag for him to spit on it—as he does, virtually, in making such a statement.

But one man's opinion doesn't prove whether any particular thing is an insult or not. An insult is purely a matter of sentimnt, and it's the sentiment of the majority that determines the matter. Therefore, if the proffessor wants to make a scientific test of the matter, and spit on it in view of the students, who, so far as Yale is concerned, represent the American public. What happens to the proffessor will probably settle the question.

Or still better, let the learned proffessor subject the Stars and Stripes to such an expectorant experiment in the streets of any American city, with an ordinary American crowd looking on.

BUYING A POSTAGE STAMP

According to the Shelby, (Ky.) Record, a citizen of Anderson county walked into the postoffice at Sparrow the other day and asked the postmaster if he had such a thing as a two-cent stamp. If he had, the vistor rather guessed he'd take one. He wanted to mail a letter, and had been told that it was customary on such an occasion to buy a stamp. He was 32 years old and never mailed a letter before.

We may smile at such a lack of of sophistication, but the background it represents is a rather solemn thing to contemplate. The contrast between the middle-aged man, to whom the purchase of a two-cent stamp was one of the memorable events of a lifetime, and the ordinary citizen who mails, and receives, a handful of letters every week or every day, is a striking one. And nothing, perhaps, could suggest more powerfully the real significance of the postage stamp as a symbol of civilization.

Presumably the man who sent no letters got none. Presumably, too, no newspapers or magazines came to him. And thus for him the great world, which the postman brings to most of our doors at least once every day, did not exist. All that we know of public affairs, of foreign lands, of the mighty movements of armies and navies and business and politics and economics and science and literature, if it comes to such a man at all, comes only as a vague, dim echo. He is dulled and chained, when he might, even though bound to one remote spot, share the manifold life of humanity in its highest development.

There are too many men—and women—merely vegetating, for lack of a postage stamp and what it represents.

While the government's rounding up spies, some husbands would like to see those hired by their wives included.

As some oil magnates figure, the double output of automobiles within a year justified doubling the price of gasoline.

IF KIDNEYS AND BLADDER BOTHER

Take a glass of Salts to flush out your Kidneys and neutralize irritating acids.

Kidney and Bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in avoiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmicist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink, which quickly relieves bladder trouble.

WELL POISED BECAUSE SHE'S WELL DRESSED

She Buys Her Stylish Clothes on Credit.

Charming, up-to-date clothes do not encourage vanity. When a woman's clothes are right she doesn't give them, a thought, but if they're out of fashion and shabby she's uncomfortably conscious of them constantly. Your own experience has taught you the truth of this.

Other women know it, too—that's why so many of them visit CHERRY'S when clothes are needed, to make use of CHERRY'S famous INSTALLMENT SYSTEM.

If you like to choose from varied, beautiful assortments, you'll recognize CHERRY'S this spring as a shop after your own heart. Go and see the new Corduroy costumes—the distinctive Dresses, Suits, Coats and Waists! A small payment down will buy anything.

The address is 515 13th street, between Washington and Clay streets, and don't forget CHERRY'S have another store at 528 13th street, just across the street, which carries men's goods exclusively. CHERRY'S also have two stores in San Francisco, one at 1009 Market street just above Sixth and another at 2400 Mission street. These stores carry both ladies' and men's apparel. CHERRY'S also have stores in Portland, Tacoma, Los Angeles and Sacramento.—Advt.

TRIANGLE DRAMA AT RICHMOND TONIGHT

The big triangle feature, "The Coward" which comes to the Richmond theater this evening is one of the strongest plays seen at the local playhouse for many weeks. The story is of a Mexican war veteran, Colonel Wintson, who has an only son, Frank. His greatest ambition in life is to have his son make for himself a creditable record. When Frank approaches maturity, the Civil War breaks out and a recruiting station is opened in the vicinity of the Winston home. The colonel instructs his son to enlist but the latter in fear refuses until he is forced by his father who threatens to kill him if he doesn't. The boy enlists but on the first night while on picket duty he deserts, and flees to his home panic stricken. The colonel enlists as a private in shame from his son's dishonor. The lad hides in a barn when the town in which he lives is attacked by federal troops. Fear departs when he hears the Union soldiers talking of plans which they have with them showing weakeness in their lines. Frank holds the men up and secures the plans. While dashing across a bridge where his father is on picket duty the latter shoots the horse from beneath the son and both tumble into the swift current of the stream. The youth makes the shore and completes his wild trip to the Confederate camp where he gives them the plans. A great Confederate victory is the result. The story ends with the reconciliation of the colonel and Frank when the former is informed of his son's bravery.

Comedy for the bill is furnished by the well known vaudeville feature, Eddie Foy and the Seven Little Foys, in motion pictures, entitled "A Favorite Fool." The latter is a Mack Sennett production and is offered by the Triangle Keystone company.

A son was born last evening to the wife of Edward T. Mann, Pullman resident.
